

MARCH TO MAJOR “BAILOUT” BANKS: “BILLIONS FOR BANKS: WHAT’S IN IT FOR TAXPAYERS?”

January 15 at 11:30 am
555 California Street, San Francisco
in the lobby of the Bank of America Building

The seven major banks we will be protesting have received bailouts in excess of $150 billion. But no one, including the government, knows what they are doing with the bailouts. Our protest will begin at 11:30am in the lobby of the Bank of America Building at 555 California Street. We are scheduling meetings with senior management from the BofA, JP Morgan Chase, Wells Fargo, Citigroup, US Bancorp, Morgan Stanley and Goldman Sachs. At approximately 1:00pm we will march from our last bank meeting to the San Francisco Federal Reserve for a meeting with the senior management at the Federal Reserve Bank.

Our message on Martin Luther King’s actual birth date is intended to be a message to the new Obama administration and congress as it begins drawing up new legislation. Our issues will include preventing foreclosures, major loan modifications, support for small businesses under the Obama economic stimulus plan, excessive executive compensation, full transparency, and philanthropy to the underserved.

With your help, this could be the most fascinating, and certainly most productive “walking tour” of San Francisco for the year 2009.
